Key findings

1. Limitation (Unit V) is the single biggest block — 54 questions; the Q12 essay was Limitation in 14 of 17 numbered papers, Q8 in 12 of 16, Q16 in 11 of 17.
2. Interim orders (33) and jurisdiction (31) are the most-asked CPC clusters — mostly as short notes, but jurisdiction is asked in 16 of 18 full papers.
3. Pleadings/plaint, res judicata, appeals and execution form the core of Part B essays year after year.
4. Part C repeats itself: arrest in an immovable-property suit, non-joinder, ex parte remedies, S.27 extinguishment and the GHMC notice problem have each come 2–5 times.
5. Every one of the 326 questions fits one of the 16 clusters of the CPC Final Exam Cluster Notes (only 2 are outside the syllabus or illegible).

What to do with this

- Tier 1 (eight clusters) = C1, C3, C5, C9, C10, C13, C14, C15 — read the essays and every Part C answer in the cluster notes.
- Tier 2 = C2, C6, C8, C11, C12 — essays + short notes. Tier 3 = C4, C7, C16 — short-note level.
- In Part B, always keep one Limitation essay ready (Q12) and one of plaint / res judicata / appeals / execution.
- In Part C, practise the repeat problems in the table above — they are written out in IRAC form in the cluster notes.
